ALL 'MUST COME CLEAN,' IS EDICT

Conference Takes Rap At Commissioners' Court

CHALLENGES CONTRACTS

No Endorsement to Those Letting Outside Contracts

Keep Jefferson county money in Jefferson county.

Repeal the open port bill. Don't tamper with the state constitution so as to change the state textbook law.

Raise the per capita amount spent on school children in Texas to a $15 minimum.

The above will be some of the questions candidates for state district, county and precinct officers will be asked to state their positions on in a questionnaire to be mailed by the Farm-Labor, political conference of Jefferson county this week.

To Take Active Political Part

The conference, in a meeting held at Nederland Sunday afternoon, on record that the body would take an active, aggressive part in the July primary. That the conference holds the balance of power in Jefferson county politics and can determine which candidates will and won't go into office was the opinion of the body.

Henry Maitre, chairman of the conference, said today there would be no long drawn out fight to put the conference nominees in office.

"We figure if we have our choice of candidates endorsed by July first, we can do plenty of work in the remaining three weeks," Maitre explained.

A number of questions will be included in the questionnaire being printed this week and county officers must "come clean" on one question particularly, according to the head of the conference.

County Jobs for County Men

"The conference will never endorse any candidate for county office who is a party to the letting of county contracts to contractors outside of Jefferson county. We have just as much as any other contractors and workers as Dallas or other cities and we feel these should be given the county jobs."

The conference is to be particularly zealous in its choice for state senator and legislator from this district.

"We want to know before we cast our vote on certain things which the conference has gone on record for and against. We want the open port bill repealed, for one thing, and there are other questions we want action on," Maitre said.

SEATS FOR KLAN SHOW ON SALE

Jazz Band Symphonies Over Business Section

It was not a "thin red line of heroes" but a long, enthusiastic, double-decked cordon of purchasers extending for more than a block which formed the box office for the "Awakening" this morning when tickets went on sale for Jimmy Hall's production, "The Awakening," to open here Monday.

A jazz band on a truck symphonized through the business section this morning, heralding to the world that "The Awakening" was close at hand and sale of tickets had begun. The theater this morning gave the disposal of seats for the show, exceeded the most optimistic beliefs of those in charge of the show. That the show will run more than a solid week is already assured and probably longer, it was indicated by Klan officials today.

Women Clamor for Lead Part In Gotham As Demos Gather

On Equal Plane With Men, Voters Now Seek To Dictate Few More Policies

BY DOROTHY SHUMATE

U. S. Press Convention Correspondent

NEW YORK, June 16.—Political wisecracks at the democratic national convention may wipe that bored "I've been coming since the flood" expression of their brows and prepare for a brand new sensation.

For the first time in history they will see women schooled in the gentle art of politics working right up in the front ranks on an equal footing with men.

Unlike the republican women who were given 50-50 representation with the men in their party at the G. O. P. convention in Cleveland, the democratic women have shared equal honors for four years. They know what it is to work hand in hand with the political powers and now they're prepared to show off.

They are determined to show that they are no longer liabilities but party assets.

In preparation for their offensive, armies of feminine politicians have already entrenched themselves in the various camps in New York and are starting to maneuver.

There's more than one way of finding out where the main strength lies. They're enrolling now—"just watch us work."

Elizabeth Marbury, chairman of the committee of nine, selected to gather together the new politicians at a safe distance from the invading males and also to bring both together at the proper time, will dispense hospitality and test the effect of potent politics interspersed with such remarks as "oh what a lovely hat."

In addition there will be a general reception committee of 500 which includes women who have presided at White House and cabinet functions and in leading cities in Europe, while behind the scenes they pulled the silken strings of the nations political

ROME, June 16.—Labor organizations in many parts of Italy began a sabotage today in protest against the kidnapping and reported murder of the socialist deputy, Matteotti.

M'ADOO FORCES STILL DUBIOUS

Early Arrivals Doubt His Chance As Nominee

TAGGART FOR RALSTON

Davis Features Talk Of Demo Dark Horse

NEW YORK, June 16.—Arrival of the first delegates to the democratic national convention opening here next Tuesday, discloses the outstanding question of the moment is "who will be nominated after McAdoo and Smith are disposed of."

It develops that few of the early arrivals believe either McAdoo or Smith cannot win the nomination and all conversation hinges around the "dark horses."

This feeling is expected to grow with the arrival here Wednesday of George Brennan of Illinois, Thomas Taggart of Indiana and Ed Moore of Ohio, who, for the moment, have reached no conclusion as to the nominee and each of whom has his own first choice which is not the first choice of the others.

Ralston Has Support

Taggart is for Senator Ralston and appears likely to play the same strategic game that supporters of Frank O. Lowden played at Cleveland.

Every effort will be made to prevent formal nomination of Ralston but Indiana and other will proceed to vote for him just the same, in the hope that his strength will grow as votes for Smith and McAdoo begin to fall away from them.

The course of McAdoo's forces at the convention is still undecided. McAdoo will probably have in the neighborhood of 450 votes on the first ballot—by far the greatest support since he was defeated last year.

Taggart is a free for all convention such as this one ever had to start with.

In the discussion of dark horses there is increasing talk of John W. Davis, solicitor general under Woodrow Wilson and U. S. ambassador to England. Early arrivals declare that much of the McAdoo strength will be in the compromise choice and the Missouri delegation which will have a dark horse of its own in Governor Gardner, likes Davis as a compromise, according to some of its leaders.

One-Time Heavyweight Ring Contender Slain

By Gotham Gun Clique

NEW YORK, June 16.—Bill Brennan, "trial horse" pugilist who saved his money and started an eating and drinking club, early Sunday was shot to death, supposedly by run runners.

Two men, Frank Ralston, alleged bootlegger, and Terry O'Neil, ex-pugilist were captured by the police after they had beaten a police lieutenant unconscious, smashed their way to Broadway through locked doors and fled in a commandeered car with pistols at the driver's seat.

Brennan's last fight was in the early morning. The customers had left his cabaret and he was sitting eating with his sister, a singer known as Shirley Sherman. A man entered and tapped him on the shoulder.

"Can I see you a minute, Bill?" he asked.

Brennan was known to many whom he didn't know.

"Sure," he answered, and stepped into the hallway of his club, behind heavy portiers. Two shots reverberated through the vacant rooms. Bill was heard to cry out.

State Trooper Shot

A friend in the state trooper car had been eating with him. James Cullen, leaped to his assistance and received a bullet through the neck. Brennan's sister sought to seize her brother's assailant and was shot in the bullet going wild.

The prize fighter had been in the chest and abdomen.

"I'm dying, Shirley," he gasped.

"For God's sake, you're not, Bill," she answered, trying vainly to stop the flow of blood from his wounds.

"I know I am," Brennan answered.

"Oh, my poor wife, my poor child, referring to his wife Marie and a three-year-old daughter.

The pugilist, shot in the abdomen, lying in the car, was taken to a hospital, ending at the old ferry at the foot of the bathing beach.

"You troupe to change for this service," Mayor Logan said.

"Well, yes sir, I could hardly run cars here."

Upon the mayor's questioning Cullen admitted that he owned a Cadillac, concerned at the bathing beach.

Referred to Attorney

The commission was not certain whether the proposition would conform with the 1913 Jitney ordinance, but upon consultation, City Attorney Wisner seemed to think that Cullen's plan would come under the chauffeur ordinance, whereby Cullen would be only required to give bond and take out a license. The service proposed by Cullen would not enter the downtown business district.

The commission voted that Wisner look up the matter, and that if Cullen's plan did not conflict with existing ordinances, consent be given if Cullen provided bond and license.

Disappointed In Love, Socialist's Secretary Ends Her Own Career

Blighted Romance Shown In Written Note and Marked Bible Is Found Near The Body

NEW YORK, June 16.—Mrs. Margaret A. Martin, 23, private secretary to Morris Hillquit, socialist leader, always had been "the happy kid" to her friends.

Sunday police found her dead in her Greenwich Village apartment. She sat stiffly in her little kitchenette, wearing her best dressing gown. The doors were locked, the keyholes stuffed and the gas turned on.

Nearly was an interlocking divorce decree from Frederick Martin, granted by Judge J. H. Swann of extreme cruelty. It would have become effective in August.

A Bible lay open on the table with the following verse underlined: "Look down from Thy Heaven and behold from the habitation of Thy Holiness and of Thy Glory: where is Thy seal and Thy strength, the sounding of Thy bowels and Thy Mercies toward me? Are they restrained?"

There also was a photograph of her husband, inscribed "to my funny face, from Fred."

Mrs. Martin's only explanation of her suicide was found in a carefully written note to her mother, Mrs. Frederick Hyslopberg, Patterson, N. J. It said:

"Forgive me," she writes "for giving you so much trouble. I am very tired and hope to find some rest where I am going. But my life in my face dress and don't spend any money on me."

Tomorrow, the "happy kid" will be buried—in that best lace dress.

$676,254 TOTAL FOR NEW YEAR

Of This Sum $447,254 To Be Raised By Taxation

$329,000 INCOME

Incorporated Is Proposal To Discount Early Taxes

Port Arthur voters will go to the polls tomorrow.

The city budget, providing for the expenditure during the fiscal year from April 1, 1924, to March 31, 1925, $676,254, goes before the voters for approval in six city wards.

Of the budget, to total $447,254 is to be raised by taxation, the remainder, the amount to be raised by taxation for the general fund for general city operation, not including water and sewer, is $229,000.

Revenues to be added to this sum from revenue-producing departments of the city will total $80,000, or $329,000 appropriated for cost of operating the city, exclusive of water and sewer operations, which will cost, it is estimated, $70,000.

$150,000 Water Income

Income from the water and sewer departments total $140,000, of which the other $70,000 will go to new improvements and extension.

An item of fixed revenue and expense is $166,634, providing for the interest and sinking fund.

Eligible to vote are qualified taxpayers citizens of either sex.

A companion ballot to that involving the budget provides for or against the closing of Adolph street between blocks 457 and 458. If approval is given, the street vacated will become the property of the Tax and Sewer Company and the owners of adjoining lots.

Early Tax Discount Proposed

Early payment of taxes is being urged by the city commission through the medium of a proposition inserted in the city budget election tomorrow whereby discounts would be allowed for tax payment on or before varying dates.

Included in this proposition, with the blanket "for" or "against," is a plan to allow a three per cent discount on all taxes paid on or before Oct. 1, 1924, two per cent discount on taxes paid on or before Nov. 1, 1924, and a one per cent discount for taxes paid on or before Dec. 1, 1924.

It is pointed out that if the taxpayers to come in early by giving a discount, we're saving just that much money," the mayor explained. "This is done elsewhere—even up at Nederland."

Long Ballot

Confronting the few voters tomorrow will be a long white slip with "for" and "against" on the detailed expenditures in various departments.

Out of the ordinary items pointed out yesterday by Mayor Logan include a $200,000 proposed expenditure for erection of street signs over all Port Arthur, including Model Addition. These are required by the post-office department for free delivery of mail.

In the water and sewer department, the city estimates an income of $140,000, which is divided into $70,000 under the heading of "water and sewer maintenance and operation" and $70,000 for "permanent property and improvement, water construction and equipment."

Democratic Executive Body, In Beaumont, Discusses Election

INCREASE SEEN IN 1924 COSTS

Question of Assessment On Candidates Discussed

Special to The News
BEAUMONT, Texas, June 16.—Members of the democratic county executive committee met here this morning for the purpose of arranging details in connection with the election to be held July 26.

Included in the business to come before the committee was the question of assessments of various candidates to have their names printed on the ballot. J. D. Hensley, secretary, said he figured the election would cost between $4,400 and $4,500. The election two years ago cost $3,500.

TEN VICTIMS IS RESULT OF BIG KILLING

Young Girl Reveals Plan of Parents for Wholesale Destruction.

"Mother said, 'Ruth, go to the drug store and hand the clerk this paper and be careful not to drop the bottle he gives you.' 'I did as mother said and gave her the bottle. After supper I studied my lessons and started for my room. As I was leaving the room father was shaking the bottle and he said quietly, but in an earnest tone, 'sudden death for some of them tonight.'"

"Next morning father said, 'Thank goodness, we know how to get restful sleep now. We killed ten mosquitoes last night with that wonderful Fly-Flu mother sent you for yesterday.'"

Fly-Flu is certified death for every kind of bug pest or insect that crawls. Substitutes can't and won't do the work. Fly-Flu instantly annihilates flies, mosquitoes, moths (and their eggs), ants, fleas and all other insect pests, if directions are followed carefully. Fly-Flu is harmless to humans, leaves no unpleasant odor and cannot possibly stain. Price 50 cents for large bottle with handy sprayer, at all drug, grocery and other retail stores.—adv.

6 NEGROS HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Car Overturns on Sabine Road Sunday

Six negro men and women were badly cut and bruised, but not seriously injured, when an automobile in which they were riding on the Sabine road left the highway and overturned in the ditch Sunday afternoon about a mile from Sabine. It was reported at Mary Gates hospital today.

All the injured negroes except one woman, who had to have one finger amputated, left the hospital after receiving medical attention. The burning car in which the negroes were riding overturned when a rear wheel smashed as the machine went over a culvert. The automobile was completely demolished, according to reports from Sabine.

Willie Withers, negro, of San Antonio, driving the car, escaped with slight cuts and bruises from the wreck and walked back to Sabine to summon ambulances to remove the others to the hospital in Port Arthur. At Mary Gates hospital they gave their names as Jesse Fleg, 772 Forsyth street, Beaumont; Annie Dorell, 200 block Second street; Gladys Maburn, 640 West Ninth street; Lawrence Fields, 773 Forsyth street, Beaumont; Verner Richardson, 635 West Ninth street; and Willie Withers, of San Antonio, Texas.

Slayers 'Out-Neroed Nero,' Chicagoan Avers

CHICAGO, June 16.—Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, millionaire youth's "out-nerooed Nero" in their cold blooded murder of Robert Franks, 14-year-old school boy, Rev. Joseph Ribley, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church declared in his Sunday sermon.

"Here in Chicago, under the eyes of a splendid university have two apparently brilliant boys out-nerooed Nero in the cold blooded, premeditated way in which they maintained that they murdered an unsuspecting boy only to gain a few thousand dollars that they did not need," Dr. Ribley said.

Question Modern School

"Is this modern education producing such as this? Shall education like a Frankenstein monster destroy the very people who have created it. Is education not worthy the confidence we place in it? Have we been educating our children only to make monsters of them?"

"We must recognize the fact that education is not the saving salt of society unless it preserves its savor and if it has lost its savor it is worse than useless."

The Rev. John Thompson, pastor of the Chicago Temple (Methodist) blamed "craving for thrills" for the Franks' murder.

"The craving for thrills is one of the most serious perils of modern young life," Dr. Thompson told his audience.

The trial opens August 4.

FIGHT TO SAVE 165 IDLE SHIPS

New Type Engine Installed On U. S. S. Vessels

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, June 16.—One more effort to save the 165 idle ships, board vessels from rust and decay in the harbors and roadsteads where they lie is to be made, by the shipping board, it was announced today.

With funds made available by congress, installation of Diesel type international combustion engines is to be made on 60 of them, while private enterprise will be encouraged by the shipping board to take over and similarly equip the remainder on a 60-50 basis.

Twelve selected ships will be dry-docked in the near future and their rusting steam engines replaced with the up-to-date Diesel engines, which operate like automobile engines, generating electricity which in turn drives the propeller shafts. Ultimately 60 in all will be so outfitted.

BIDS ON GRAVEL AND SHELL ARE RECEIVED

Bids on gravel and shell for street improvements were opened this morning and read by the city commission, referred to City Clerk Miles for tabulation, and to City Engineer Herpin for recommendation. Bids on lumber were also received at the same time. The street improvement program, including 16 blocks, provides shelling or graveling on Orange from Tenth to Fourteenth, on El Paso from Ninth to Fourteenth, and on DeQuenne from 8th to Fourteenth.

Whether gravel, shell or both will be used is left up to Herpin. In all, the city is in the market for 2270 cubic yards of material. Herpin's decision may be for four inches of gravel, or the city engineer may find it advantageous, from point of cost or durability, to use all gravel or all shell.

The Report of the Investigating Committee

The Editorial Mind

However,
commaOdds and Ends and Comment on Our Morning
Mail

Fish in the underground rivers are blind. They don't need eyes. So nature took them away. Put the same fish in waters aboveground. They'd need eyes. And nature, after generations, would develop the eyes.

Life adapts itself to its environment.

The giraffe's long neck was developed by craning and stretching, to nibble the most tender leaves, at the top of trees.

The rhinoceros developed its thick hide to protect itself from poisonous jungle snakes and insects.

It all comes by the extremely slow processes of evolution. But life—vegetable and animal—is constantly adapting itself to its environment.

Man, having intelligence, reverses the old evolutionary law that has prevailed for millions of years. Man's body still adapts itself to environment. But man also adapts his environment to fit himself.

Where the giraffe grew a long neck to get the leaves at the tops of trees, man if he couldn't climb would use a ladder.

Instead of growing thick skin to protect himself against rattlesnakes, we wear heavy boots.

If environment doesn't please us, we change it. Instead of fleeing from the barren desert, we irrigate water into the desert and make it bloom.

Birds evolved from fish which, wanting to fly, developed their fins into wings. Man invents the airplane.

A few other forms of animal life have the power, though meager, to change their environments to suit themselves and their needs.

The beaver, for instance, instead of building underwater, makes a dam that backs up the water around the house constructed originally mostly on dry land.

But man has, to a phenomenal extent, the power to adapt his environment to himself instead of vice versa. We emphasize this power because it is the main reason why we should never yield to discouragement.

If you don't like your lot in life, you have the power to change it. Hard work and self-denial may be necessary, but every man within certain bounds is master of his own destiny.

Where he is limited in the matter of change, it is chiefly due to restrictions created by humanity at large. The race can have almost any kind of environment it wants—if it is willing to pay the price.

Everything is going wrong. The latest is that flowers are losing their scent. Scientific cross breeding by florists, to increase the size and color of blossoms, is at the expense of the perfume. The plant energy that naturally would go to make fragrance is used up by artificially stimulated growth.

Nature always exacts her penalty—her price.

The loss of floral fragrance alarms botanists. There are 4300 species of cultivated flowers, but only 420 have an agreeable odor. Of the 305 varieties of roses, only 13 emit perfume.

Some forms of wealth are beyond price. In the liquor collection that was left by the late J. R. Morgan are bottles of Napoleon's brandy and a cognac made in 1795. Even a prohibitionist might be tempted to sneeze a drink from such a treasure.

In our large cities are plenty of gunmen who would commit murder for one bottle of the 1795 cognac.

Motor vehicle owners in the United States paid over 471 million dollars in taxes last year.

There are only 430,000 miles of surfaced highways in the whole country. So auto and motorcycle owners in one year pay more than $1000 for every mile of good road.

The hole made in the American pocketbook by autos reminds us of one of the craters on the moon. But the auto is easily three-fourths a necessity, only one-fourth a pleasure device.

It is cheap at any price, considering the time it saves.

Time, after all, is the thing of greatest value among our many forms of wealth.

Forty years ago, kerosene was the main byproduct of crude oil. Around refineries men drew off a barrel of gasoline to wash a pair of overalls, and dumped it out. Then came the auto.

This year, refiners say, 9177 million gallons of gasoline will be produced in the United States. This will be a fifth more than in 1923. How long at this rate of increase, until the underground oil reserves will be exhausted?

The future fuel, and probably within your lifetime will be alcohol or electricity sent by radio from central stations.

Our bodies are puny, but, aided by our intellects, we do the work of a race of giants. On the western shore of Great Salt Lake, railroad builders recently literally moved a mountain by touching an electric bit of rock and dirt were torn loose and scattered. It was equivalent to throwing into the air a 10-story building 1000 feet long.

This certainly is no country for a sufer. And the day is not far off when the man who won't work won't eat. Parasites will be needed out.

Spice husband tells us he can't go to town with her. His is to stay at home when she goes and sign for the packages.

STEEL MAY REVIVE IN AUGUST, SAYS GARY FOLLOWING SLUMP

Now Judge Albert H. Gary says August may bring a revival in steel. Production is now at only half the capacity and may go down to forty per cent of capacity. Buying is below consumption and the foreign demand is not what it should be. Again according to the experts, the total column of employment throughout the country as a whole is no longer expanding. Average weekly earnings, based upon the number of hours of labor performed, are no longer increasing. Except in isolated and exceptional cases wages are no longer rising. It is not to be expected they say that there will be a further general increase in wage rate and industrial leaders say that trend is against it.

Now the cotton manufacturing industry faces a prospect of labor troubles. Many mills have been compelled to reduce their working schedules as a result of high cost of manufacture, cotton goods in their finished state have also been high. Now the mill managers see the importance of reducing the price of goods, but they cannot go further in this line unless they can reduce cost.

Workers are lined up determined not to suffer by reduction in wages and the mill owners say they cannot make a profit unless wages are lower. A recent bulletin issued by the Department of Agriculture declared that agriculture has before it a fairly profitable year in 1924. With seasonable weather, it is stated, the farmers will have the best all round balance since 1920.

Also the loss of farm workers since the war has been offset by about an eighteen per cent increase in the ratio of crop production to workers. There are three problems before the cotton mill men: high wages, high rents and high cost of cotton. There may be another famine crop here this year. Good weather, however, from now on may easily remove the handicap of a poor start as it did in 1920. In the crop year of 1920 the May average was the lowest on record, or 62.4 per cent of normal. As a result of more favorable weather later on in the growing season a crop of thirteen million two hundred and seventy thousand bales of lint cotton was ginned in 1920.

WALL STREET IS SHY

According to veteran gamblers it has been many years since Wall Street has witnessed such a small amount of betting on the presidential nomination. One cinch bet was that Calvin Coolidge would be nominated on the first ballot. He was. It could not have been otherwise. All the delegates who had seats in the convention, with the exception of the twenty-eight from Wisconsin and South Dakota, were committed to Calvin Coolidge.

Senator Hiram Johnson had six delegates but would not permit his name to go before the convention. Senator LaFollette had twenty-four delegates and permitted the presentation of his platform but not the submission of his name. Now after the democrats have held their circus in Madison Square Garden the senator from Wisconsin will have a message for the American people.

His friends say that if he makes the race he will throw the election into the house. All this would be dealing with futures. There may be a great landslide to Coolidge as there was to Harding four years ago. This may be a democratic year and the nominee of the Madison Square Garden Convention may be the successor of Coolidge at the White House.

Coolidge continues to be quoted at odds of eight to five in Wall Street "that he will be the next president." This is the month of June. In November the voters will return their verdict.

HOT WEATHER SLOGAN

This was the slogan adopted by the men who controlled the Cleveland convention: "Keep cool and keep Coolidge." Dog days are coming. November is a long way off. Will it be possible for the voters of America, or a large part of them, to keep cool and keep Coolidge?

There are millions of independent voters. These voters do not wear a party collar. They hold the balance of power between the two great parties. They elected Wilson president and then re-elected him. They placed Harding in the White House.

An independent voter usually does his own thinking. He will elect a president in November. This is the way it is written in the big book of destiny.

Quillen's Paragraphs

The American people are capable of self-government if they had the time.

The third party has arranged for everything now except the finances and the slogan.

Both parties have sufficient leaders, but they wish to lead in so many directions.

A bachelor has some advantages, but who is there to make up his mind for him?

No people is in danger of wild revolution while it remains so docile before a traffic cop.

Relatives are people you visit when heat makes the task of cooking at home unbearable.

A vanity case may seem absurd to the male, but the girls must have some way to carry their bathing suits.

It is fine to get back to nature if you can have one hand free to scratch your nose next day.

Some dads are queer. They keep buying beefsteak when not one of the girls has a silk nightgown.

Leonardo was a great student of anatomy, and there were no musical comedies in his day, either.

A haughty congress can't break the spirit of a president who can survive all the puns made on him.

The man who thinks virtue always is rewarded never tried huzzing his straw hat in a crowded elevator.

Another difference between a conviction and a prejudice is that you can inherit one from your grandfather.

No man is great enough to inspire awe after you have seen him making his toilet in a Pullman car.

Every American entry for the Olympics should tell us how the name is pronounced in his native country.

And so women are influenced by a candidate's pulchritude? Red-blooded men, however, will yield to platitudes only.

Old Ben Franklin said there never was a good war or a bad peace, which goes to show how time changes.

When a candidate gives up, he is so low in spirit that there is no way to hurt him except to play a saxophone at him.

Correct this sentence: "I don't mind the operation," said he; "it's just that I can't spare the time."

THE SOIL

The soil is the mother of us all. There are as many kinds of soil as there are people to look at it.

There is the rainy and the dusty road.

There is the plowed land and the grassy meadow.

There is the bare land which seems to expose itself needlessly to the elements, and there is the thick lush soil of the Mississippi valley.

We are all growths of the soil. Men spring up as lilies-of-the-val-

Life springs from itself. It is the unexplained phenomenon of the earth.

The soil always holds some kind of seed. For in any portion of it, taken from any depth and subjected to heat and moisture, some sort of seeds will germinate.

I find a similar thing to be true of myself. There is a certain part of me which is as the soil and brings forth strange creatures.

Man controls his desires, to be sure, but he cannot control the rise of his desires in the first place. These desires are a part of the soil of which he is composed. To change them one would have to go back several generations.

I do not condemn my soil. I am of its luminosity and nothing grows in me but has grown in other persons. And I have no excellence that is not theirs.

Beneath us all is the deep soil of the human race.

What a cheap and tawdry thing it is therefore for one to be proud of his gifts or attainments, for those evidences of special genius are not his but belong to his race.

MAIDEN 'FIT' TO KEEP CHILD

Wail Given Unwed Mother After Court Trial

ST. LOUIS, June 16.—Bohaired Fannie Lockwood cuddled her six-month-old son, Thomas Poepping, Jr., in her arms.

"His name, I'm just tickled to death," the 18-yr. -1 unwed mother said as she wiped happy tears from her eyes. The wail is Fannie's and Fannie is a fit person to rear it, despite her youthful indiscretions. Judge Edwin Osling ruled today in domestic relations court.

Singer Fannie Charge Fannie gave the hidden baby to Thomas Poepping, handsome opera singer, two days after last Christmas. It was two weeks old. He promised to care for it, she said. He said in court later he was afraid she would kill it, and joined the city board of children's guardians in trying to prove she was unfit to rear a child. The baby was gone four months.

Last month Fannie told Poepping she wanted the baby. Poepping told her he didn't know where the baby was, and that he wasn't going to marry her. Fannie brought assault charges against him and inebriety charges to recover the child which police sergeant had traced. Charges are still pending against the singer.

U. S. ALONE CAN GIVE NATION REAL MARINE

BOSTON, June 16.—That support of American ships by the American people is the only thing needed for an American merchant marine, was the declaration before the Eleventh National Foreign Trade convention by a special committee of the National Foreign Trade Council. The declaration reads:

"But there is a thing which is vital, and which will surely overcome the ship handicap. That is support of American ships by American shippers. Nothing more than that is needed to insure the continued presence of the American flag in all the ports of the world. It lies in the will of the American people. It is not a matter of law, or regulation, or administration. It is not a question of subsidy, or bounty, or preferential treatment, or discriminating dues of any kind whatsoever. It is only the perfectly natural and legitimate preference of using existing facilities under the American flag."

Women Wearing Sports Clothes Today Whether They Play or Look On

SPORTS for the moment hold the center of fashion's stage and the old sporting injunction, "Play or pay," is bringing increased receipts to the purveyors of women's wear in consequence. For today practically every woman buys sports clothes. If she does not play herself she pays to see others play.

As a consequence the knitted frocks, tweeds and flannels are in the heyday of their glory. Many of the knitted suits in silk and wool are of the wrap around type, the skirts opening on the side. As is both sensible and proper, the costumes are designed along extremely plain straight lines, the skirts and jackets both moderately short.

This restraint, however, does not apply to colors. No tricks of stage lighting have produced more varied and beautiful color effects than have been shown at the Olympic contests held so far in Paris. The British exhibition events at Wembley and the regatta, ball games and track contests in America this year.

Plaid and checked fabrics in both one-piece frocks and suits and similar designs are being worn in seclusion and wool and silk sport hose. In the flannels, wool and silk crepe socks and slippers are frequently employed, while maize and shades of yellow, light green, blue, tangerine and red are among the colors most frequently seen.

Since far more women watch sporting events than take part in them, the wrap this year has taken on particular importance. The cape of three-quarter length is one of the outstanding features of the season, with the shawl cape the newest development. This resembles a shawl closely thrown about the shoulders but usually it is attached to the dress itself at the neckline.

Scarves have lost one of their appeal but have lost something in length from the spring designs. One of the latest seen is a plaid scarf of woolen silk worn with a coat, frunk of reversible plaid kasha in red and black with a white stripe.

Belts are broader and there is a marked tendency to pass both belts and scarves through slits in the material of the dress at waist and neckline.

Tweed coats in rich colors and the soft textures rival the capes on the cooler days. These are frequently seen in army, fawn, nut brown and light blue.

SANTA ANA, Calif., June 16.—From this county of orange blossoms and feminine self-expression, in the month when a young lady's fancy is popularly supposed to wear lightly to romance, comes the shocking declaration that only one girl in 36 wants a husband.

That is the gist of a poll just completed among high school maids by the agricultural education committee of the Orange county farm bureau.

Out of 2040 girls replying to questionnaire on elected careers, only 58 definitely desired marriage.

That was a great relief to boys fearing leap year proposals, but while it brought these out of retreat, the canvass perturbed the farm bureau, which had hoped to guide the assumed romantic leanings of the young ladies toward the laos of the great rural spaces.

Even the 11 girls who want to be farmettes don't exactly crave marital co-operation. It seems that the ones who grow orange blossoms wreaths will have very little opportunity to use them at their own weddings, unless the young ladies change their minds.

School teaching called to the greatest number—568 of the 2040.

Typists, according to the answers of many students wear good clothes, and business men take them out to lunch—wherefore a goodly number of the 407 eager for stenographic places hoped to save considerable on meals.

Twenty-one intended becoming under 10 years of age.

BULLFROG IS BETTER MOUSER THAN CAT
CHICKASHA, Okla., June 16.—If you don't care to keep a Kansas housecat upon the premises to keep rats and mice away, get a bullfrog. The mousing proclivities of a bullfrog are vouched for by Wade Fatheree, local sportsman, who captured a giant hopper on a fishing trip.

Incidentally, the frog secured a safe and steady future at a time when he was headed for the frying pan.

Fatheree tied the critter in the house awaiting execution. During the night the frog broke loose.

"I could hear him hopping about the house and then hear his jaw pop and a mouse squeal. He kept that up throughout the night. The next morning he had the appearance of a swelled-up frog. Now he has a home with me," Fatheree declared.

Fatheree says he wouldn't trade the frog for a flock of tomatoes.

GLORIFIES LOVE, THEN ENDS LIFE

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 16.—After devoting the entire night to an impassioned recital of popular verses glorifying love and death, Leon M. Gilbert, 40, insurance salesman, ended his life by swallowing poison in his room at a local hotel this morning.

Gilbert, according to other roomers at the hotel, disturbed their sleep by his poetic philosophizing on the futility of life, and the glory of death.

Help Port Arthur Grow

BUILDING HERE A GREAT CITY—

Port Arthur's Future Is In Your Hands—

Port Arthur or no other city can grow faster or greater than its local business interests. This industry is the very life blood of the community. Every dollar spent away from Port Arthur is doing just that much to help stagnate the life blood of the city.

It is our duty as patriotic citizens to not only trade at home, but to teach the younger generation, the men and women of tomorrow, the necessity of keeping money at home.

We all want to see Port Arthur grow to its place as one of Texas' finest and largest cities. We are proud of Port Arthur and its almost unbelievably remarkable growth. Its possibilities are unlimited. It has the resources, it has the industries, it has the opportunities. It is for each of us to help in every manner possible to create the proper spirit.

Let us now resolve that every day in every way we will do all in our power to send Port Arthur ahead at full speed. And let us keep in mind the absolute necessity of trading at home.

George Actor Meets Jones Tonight—Orange Wins in Golf

Crowd Will Select Referee Tonight In No Time-Limit Go

AT LAST it's at hand, for tonight George Vassel Astor, one-time the "Masked Marvel" of the western coast and sometimes known as the "Pride of Port Arthur," meets Paul Jones, occasionally known by his full title of John Paul Jones. The last named gentleman claims Houston as his home, and one of his necessary managers.

Both of these persons, fellow wrestling for a livelihood, and their meeting here at Port Arthur is the only one of the athletic events of the season. The event is scheduled for the Elks theater at 8 o'clock, and it is figured that perhaps the largest crowd yet will be on hand. So much for that.

Nicks on Referee
The News sports desk has received several letters in the last several days complaining of the work of referees in the past, the most recent of these writers saying he never intended to see another match in Port Arthur if some change was not made. None of the letters has been printed, owing to their vitriolic nature. No doubt it is hard enough to please each and every one, as the old cry goes, but tonight there will be no dispute, for the audience will select the third man in the ring. There will be no doubt this time, and probably the scene of the crowd naming the referee will resemble one of the old-time political conventions.

Referees used in Port Arthur vehemently insist their work was up to par, and that there should have been no questioning of their decisions from some of the writers, but tonight all that will be avoided.

Scales to Be Used
Jones arrived in Port Arthur at noon today, in company with his manager, Sigel. Astor is on hand patiently waiting, in excellent trim for tonight's affair.

Another announcement is that scales will be in the ring tonight to weigh the two grapplers. Astor, who generally weighs within a few pounds of 155, has secreted warning on Jones that he must enter the ring weighing 155. The scales will be there to show the fans what's what, the local grapple says.

The record shows that Astor and Jones have met twice before, each time on the city auditorium mat in Houston. One of the two fights to a draw after two hours, the length of time permitted under the Police Gazette rules in such a match. The next time the two men met it was under the Marquis of Queensbury rules, which call for no-limit matches.

Victory Grudging Affair
In four and one-half thrilling hours the Houston phenomenon took the decision. The first fall went to Jones, but Astor came back at him and took the second. But the third fall and the victory went to the Houston man.

Lastly, tonight's match will have no time-limit, and the action may go into the late hours, possibly even to the well known few small hours. Again it may be first and snappy. Tonight only will tell.

25 Signed Up
Approximately 25 members have been signed up by Conway for his three swimming classes, instruction in which begins today. There will be two-weeks' classes in each of three classes—the first for those learning to swim, the second consisting of diving instruction and in general for the average swimmers "not so good," while the third class will consist of life saving work and is meant for swimmers who are above the average.

Conway plans to start a physical training class for Port Arthur men later, but enrollment for this division has not been started yet.

Young American Army Sails From New York To Visit La Fayette

BY FRANK GETTY
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, June 10.—A little American expeditionary force, some 300 strong, sails for France today.

The transport is the steamship America, the goal the athletic supremacy of the world, to be won at Colombes Stadium in Paris in competition with 41 other nations.

The athletes who make up the little army bent on Olympic conquest, although there are some old familiar faces among them, are for the most part making their first appearance in these international games.

School and college stars must be depended upon by a large degree, thus are before to carry the shield of the United States to victory and keep the flag aloft at the stadium which is a grand old place from the Stars and Stripes so often.

Today's contingent which sails to tell "La Fayette, patrie d'honneur" "Tell us we are here," comprises 170 track and field stars, 41 men swimmers and water polo players, 21 boxers and divers, 18 acrobats, two women fencers, 25 boxers, 15 basketball, 10 wrestlers, 11 gymnasts, 12 coaches, ten managers, ten trainers, six rubbers, besides officials and some 200 friends, relatives and admirers of athletes.

Only 20 of these track and field stars making the trip this year did so in 1920 when the American team went to Antwerp.

Stronger Than Ever
Besides the survivors of Friday's and Saturday's grueling final trials at Cambridge, three additional members of the American team have been named. They are F. M. Gates, Princeton hammer thrower, Ben Owen, red and blue pole vaulter and Basil Brown, Newark A. C., who will compete in the 2000 meter steeple chase.

The team this year looks stronger than any that has yet sailed in quest of Olympic honors. In the spirit of this country has an array of talent which should ensue victory in both the 100 meters and 200 meters event as well as the 400 meters.

Doubting Thomas of Biblical History Original Man From Missouri

SACRED CONCERT WELL RECEIVED

Talks on Man Who Wedded Wrong Woman

"The Man From Missouri" was the subject of a religious service before a crowded audience last night by Rev. H. L. Yelderman at the First Christian church. Preceding the sermon a quartet sang a concert was given by the Port Arthur Boosters Band.

"I suppose in all generations there have been people who would believe anything anyone should tell them and then there are others who would believe nothing unless they should see it," declared Rev. Yelderman. "In Missouri there was once a people who were so prejudiced that when they did not believe a thing unless they saw it and they said 'I'm from Missouri!'"

"The man of whom I speak tonight lived in Missouri but he had that same spirit. A wonderful thing had happened. A man had been raised from the dead and the apostles who had seen him told this man about it. But the man who had the Missouri spirit in his mind was Thomas, who said 'I won't believe it unless I can thrust my hand into his side.' I shall later tell you that Jesus Christ was risen from the dead and after Thomas put his hand into his side Jesus without a doubt that Jesus was raised from the dead. It was proof enough for him.

"And I believe that Jesus Christ risen from the dead is a proven fact today. He has given proof to all mankind that He is Christ, the Son of God.

"He is an unusual man, who after all the proven facts of electricity today who says he does not believe in it when he sees it right before his eyes. He is an extraordinary man who says he does not believe in steam today. He is an unusual and eccentric man who says he does not believe in gravity. What do you think of a man who says he does not believe in these things? I know what I would think of him and you would probably think the same.

"And Jesus Christ is as much a proven fact and demonstrative power today as steam, electricity and other modern day devices, and such a man who says he does not believe in Jesus Christ can be placed in the same category as the man who says he does not believe in steam and electricity.

Compares Russian Life

"Jesus Christ has proven that He has a right to be here, to be in a nation, its life. If tonight you are enjoying a decent home, a decent state, and nation you owe it to Jesus Christ. How many of you would trade your homes for homes in Russia, where Jesus Christ is ridiculed, His workers persecuted?

"Jesus Christ has proven His right to be in business. Many business men have found that Jesus Christ's workings are no theory. And Jesus Christ has proven to all generations and has proven today that He has a right to be in the home.

"I believe in Jesus Christ because the Book tells of Him and because of the facts to which He has been subjected. Put Him to the happiness test. He makes people happy. He makes the home happy. Put Him to the foundation test. What are men building on today when storms and distress arise? When one builds on Christ, he stands. In the conscience test the Christian man can lie down to pleasant dreams but the man outside of Christ has a struggle with his own enemy—conscience. Put Him to the work test. Our thought about machinery is 'will it run?' Our thought about Jesus Christ is 'does Christianity work?' It does work. It is a proven fact."

Next Sunday night Rev. Yelderman will speak on the subject, "The Man Who Married the Wrong Woman." In announcing his subject last night Rev. Yelderman stated that this subject should be of vital interest to all married men and women and all others contemplating marriage.

"UNBLAZED TRAILS"

Victor Rich and Dick Hutton play special roles in "Unblazed Trails" at the Liberty theater today.

Hutton in his two delineations, first as the trusted and humble secretary of a prominent business head and second as the revengeful sufferer who has served a penitentiary term as the result of a crime committed by his employer's son and of which he was accused, offers some polished portrayals and engages with ease some of the difficult situations with which he is confronted.

The work of Miss Rich as the beautiful young daughter of the steel magnate, is soft and well placed. Her voice is very pleasing and she is exquisite in some of her elaborate scenes. The accompanying roles that of her father and the heavy, are extremely well cast to say the least, and every role has the proper weight for its proportionate place in the play.

An outstanding feature of the story, which is an original, is the grand climactic battle between the heart and the victorious Dick. Unusual suspense is maintained during the play and the feeling of satisfaction is overwhelming at the finale.

SLAVERY ABOLITION MEETS A SETBACK

GENEVA, June 16.—The League of Nations world wide campaign for the abolition of slavery has just met with a serious setback—from the chair of the League.

The League's campaign against slavery was instituted some two years ago upon representations before the League assembly that slavery still existed in Abyssinia, with open slave markets and the ruling authorities making a nice income off a head tax on each slave sold.

According to reports just received from various interested governments, such as France, England and Italy, the consuls and other authorities in the districts adjoining the Red Sea, where the slave traffic formerly flourished, declare that the slaves are more than satisfied with their present condition.

For the most part they were savages captured in the open, and who, after being sold on the block, were given steady occupations by their masters with plenty to eat and wear and no worry about the future.

VETERANS TO PLACE BOULDERS ON GRAVE

OMAHA, Neb., June 16.—Four granite red boulders that once stood high in the lawn at "Thornwald," home of the late Senator John M. Thurston, are to be placed on the grave of Mrs. Thurston in Prospect Hill cemetery here, if relative approve.

The work of transferring the boulders was undertaken by the Spanish war veterans in honor of the wife of the man whose famous speech on "Force," delivered before congress, resulted in declaration of war on Spain.

The boulders were shipped here years ago by Senator Thurston, who selected them in Montana. A special freight car was needed to transport the immense rocks.
